Relationships

What is sexual health?

World Health Organization

“...a state of physical, emotional, mental and social wellbeing in relation to sexuality; it is not merely the absence of disease, dysfunction or infirmity. Sexual health requires a positive and respectful approach to sexuality and sexual relationships, as well as the possibility of having pleasurable and safe sexual experiences, free of coercion, discrimination and violence. For sexual health to be attained and maintained, the sexual rights of all persons must be respected, protected and fulfilled.”

(World Health Organisation)

Discussion

Which parts of this definition do you think we get right?

Which parts could we do better?

Which groups may be less likely to realise these rights?

Achieving sexual health & well-being depends on a persons;

- access to comprehensive, good-quality information about sex and sexuality;
- knowledge about the risks they may face and their vulnerability to adverse consequences of unprotected sexual activity;
- ability to access sexual health care;
- living in an environment that affirms and promotes sexual health.

- The teenage pregnancy rate in Scotland rose for the first time in over a decade.
- Increasing from 23.2 per 1,000 women in 2021 to 27.1 in 2022.
- Published in July 2024, end date of info Dec 2022.
- Increase mostly driven by pregnancies in those aged between 17 and 19 years.
- Under 16's accounted for 5% of teenage pregnancies and under 18's for 32%.
- The vast majority (68%) were to those aged 18 and 19 at conception
- Under 18s accounting for around a third of teenage pregnancies in recent years

Talking about bodies & sex

Why can it be so difficult?

- Anatomically correct words for body parts
- Growing up not talking about sex & bodies
- Uncomfortable – seen as sexual words
- Reflects society's shaming attitudes towards bodies and sex
- Often it is easier to resort to slang or euphemisms (early years)
- It can be embarrassing, and that's ok

Boys produced negative narratives in relation to sex and relationships; frequently used words were “bad” and “dirty” to describe sexual acts. Lack of any positive words or pleasure.

Discourses surrounding perceptions of sexual health repeatedly produced a clean versus dirty dichotomy.

Personal hygiene, visual appearance of genitals, and the absence of infection were incorporated into the meaning of being clean and therefore sexually healthy.

This reflected the focus on the negative consequences of sex from the messages often received in experiences of sex and relationships education within schools.

MacGilleEathain, R (2017)

Do we talk to young people about pleasure?

Do you talk about the pleasurable & enjoyable aspects of sex with young people?

If you don't, what are some of the reasons why?

Pleasure & safeguarding

- Understanding pleasure is an essential part of safeguarding
 - if young people don't know how it's supposed to feel, how will they know if it doesn't feel okay?
- If they are not enjoying it (emotionally as well as physically)
 - why are they doing it, are they being coerced or pressured?
 - Is it about expectations?

Recap group agreement

Let's talk about sexual consent

How is our current understanding of consent shaped?

Sexual Consent and the law

In Scottish law consent is now defined as “free agreement”.

- Can you list up to 6 situations where a person may not be able to give proper consent?

Unable to give consent

- Drugs or alcohol
- Held against their will
- Asleep or unconscious
- Mental disorder where they do not have the capacity to consent.
- Being forced with fear of violence

What is free agreement?

Free agreement' is: willing, freely chosen, active, positive participation. It must be actively given at the time and not presumed. It can be withdrawn at any time, by anyone. For example, just because someone agreed to sex the last time, does not mean they have agreed to sex every time.

Rape

Rape, attempted rape and assault with intent to rape: 'rape' is when a penis is used to penetrate someone's vagina, anus or mouth without their consent (the person did not agree to it). The victim of the offence can be of any gender.

Sexual assault by penetration

.....is when the someone sexually penetrates the vagina or anus of another person without their consent. The penetration could involve a part of the attacker's body (for example a finger) or an object (for example a bottle or a vibrator).

The offence of 'sexual assault' makes it a crime to do any of the following without the person's consent and any reasonable belief that they consented:

Penetrate	Sexually penetrate the vagina, anus or mouth
Touch	Sexually touch the victim
Engage in	Engage in any other form of sexual activity which results in physical contact with the victim, directly, through clothing, with a part of the body or an object
Ejaculate	Ejaculate semen onto the victim or urinate or emit saliva onto the victim sexually

What is the age of consent in Scotland?

Poll

16 years old, regardless of sexual orientation or gender

Local Underage sexual activity guidance

National Under-age Sexual Activity Guidance

For under aged sexual activity the law splits children into two groups

Older children are those who are 13, 14 or 15 years old, Sexual Offences (Scotland) Act 2009

Younger children are those who are 12 and under (up to and including 12 but not yet 13)

Older group 'Teenage consensual sex'

In some circumstances the age of consent rises to 18 years

- It is an offence for a person in a position of trust (e.g. a teacher, youth worker or a carer) to engage in sexual activity with a child under the age of 18 or a person with a mental disorder.

Consent Activity

Play

Stop

In small groups (10 minutes)

Pornography and young people

Aim of session:

Explore how we can support young people who come into contact with pornography to become critical viewers and know where to seek support when it is needed

Content warning: This can be an emotive topic

Underage Exposure

Can be defined as any exposure to porn before age of 18.

"It isn't illegal for children and young people under 18 to watch porn, but it is against the law to show anyone under the age of 18 porn or give them access to it." –NSPCC

Porn in the 21st century

- Prolific across social media
- Available on social platforms (Reddit, X, snapchat etc.)
- Free and easily accessed
- Socially more acceptable/mainstream

Discussion

- What are some of the reasons young people might watch porn?
- What might be some of the risks for young people watching porn?

British Board of film research

- 62% of 11–13yrs who had seen pornography reporting that they stumbled across it unintentionally.
- 75% of parents did not believe their children had watched pornography (girls)
- LGBT young people (more likely to have early exposure)
- Violence (Choking) (BBFC Sept '19)
- 47% of teens report seeing content online they wish they hadn't seen (BBFC 2020)

Calum (18, Manchester)

(Reflecting on his first time having sex)

"I thought it was going to be a lot rougher and I wouldn't have to worry about hurting the girl, but it was completely different, and I had to be more careful."

(Reflecting on a subsequent sexual experience)

"I just thought as if it was like a porn video, and I was like okay I can do what I want with this girl because whatever I do she is enjoying it."

Quote from the BBFC study

Research suggests

- Gender differences in exposure and access to pornography
- affects children and young people's values and beliefs about sex and sexuality
- Can play a destructive role in young people's understanding of healthy relationships

And pornography has been linked to...

- Unrealistic attitudes about sex
- Harmful ideas about consent and agency

YP & Porn: shaping attitudes and behaviours?

Specific issues for young women included...

- Pressure both to engage and not to engage in sexual and/or sexualised behaviour, with a range of negative consequences for failing to negotiate the 'appropriate' balance.
- Pressure to conform to unrealistic beauty standards which result in negative body image.

Specific issues for young men included...

- Pressure to conform to heterosexual male 'norms' of watching and approving of pornography
- Pressure to appear sexually experienced, which may lead to a rejection of sex education.

What porn can young people easily access?

'Sexting' sharing images

- What age can you legally take, send or receive intimate images if consensual?
- 18 years

Sharing intimate images and consent

It is illegal to share images of people under the age of 18, even if they gave permission

We all have a responsibility to respect each others' privacy and consent

Think very carefully before asking for, or sending, intimate images

If you share an intimate image of yourself with another person you have a responsibility to make sure that you are happy to send it and you know the other person is happy to receive it.

NEVER share images, shared privately, with anyone else

If an image is shared without your consent, the person who did this has committed a crime and you have the right to report the matter to the police or tell another adult who you trust.

How can we increase young people's uptake of services?

The more relaxed we are about discussing RSHP with young people, the stigma and fear is lessened, and we can 'normalise' the use of services and accessing condoms.

Young people's uptake of sexual health services increase when information about services is shared in educational settings.
